

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to the Robinson Construction Company for the wonderful work performed on our home addition and remodel.

My husband and I purchased our home about four years ago. From day one we were pleased with the building materials used and the entire construction of the home. Fortunately, the previous owner left a copy of the blueprints with the home. We discovered the builder to be Robinson Construction Company. When time arrived to do some remodeling and addition work we knew we wanted the original builder to do the job.

Since this is our retirement home, both of us were very picky about how we wanted things done. From day one, we surprisingly had no complaints or construction issues. Robinson Construction made our building experience an effortless endeavor. Their building suppliers, vendors, and sub-contractors were held to the highest standards possible.

We have lived in many homes throughout the years, but we must say the building materials and workmanship in this home far surpass any we have owned.

Thank you for everything!
